

Green and Healthy Tribal Schools Initiative

Workshop location:

Big Horn Resort in Billings, MT

For more info or to register:

contact Myla Kelly
(406) 994-6948
myla.kelly@montana.edu

Sponsored by:

One-Day Workshop

June 16, 2011 in Billings, MT

The Peaks to Prairies Pollution Prevention Information Center, in conjunction with the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), is hosting a one-day workshop highlighting important aspects of green and healthy schools. This workshop is designed for educators, administrators and school health professionals. Renewal units are available through Montana OPI.

Indoor Air Issues in Schools

Speaker: Ron Schiller - EPA

Improving your School's Air: Integrated Pest Management and Green Cleaning

Speakers: Ruth O'Neil - Montana State,
Myla Kelly - Peaks to Prairies

Toxic Chemicals in Your School: School Chemical Cleanout, PCBs, Lead, and Asbestos

Speakers: Matt Langenfeld - EPA,
Jim Maley - EPA

Reducing your Footprint: Energy Conservation and Waste Reduction

Speakers: Myla Kelly - Peaks to Prairies,
Tim Tolman - McKinstry

Environmental Justice Grant Application and Management

Speaker: Nancy Reish - EPA

The workshop is FREE and open to all interested parties. Participants are responsible for their meals and accommodation. Scholarships are available.

Contact Myla at myla.kelly@montana.edu for details.